"The moral arc of the universe bends at the elbow of justice."

Martin Luther King, Jr.

February 18, 2016

Dear St. Stan's Families:

Justice is respecting the rights of others, and as Christians, it is our moral imperative to seek justice for those who have not been given what is rightfully theirs. Each morning during Lent we are reciting the Beatitudes and hopefully understanding the great rewards that wait us in God's kingdom when we do what is right and just.

As February winds down, I would like to remind all of you of our open house this Sunday, February 21st from 10am to 12noon. Please invite friends and families who might be interested in becoming a member of our school community.

I have enclosed in the white envelope another copy of our invitation for Family Literacy night on March 2nd from 6:00pm to 7:30pm. I am anticipating a wonderful evening for parents and students alike. Please return the RSVP by February 25th so we can be sure we will have enough participation so we can host this event. Also you will find information in reference to an assembly we are holding next week for our students.

I am very excited to inform you, that our recent technology fundraiser was quite successful and has enabled us to purchase an additional 25 chrome books for our students use, a charging cart for the chrome books, as well as, a three year subscription for IXL Math which will enable our students to master objectives, review and practice areas students may be struggling in, and will allow teachers the ability to monitor progress and create targeted instruction that will benefit each individual student. Thank you to all the school families and parishioners who were so very generous in giving to us.

In His Peace,

Elena Malinconico
