"No winter lasts forever; no spring skips its turn."

April 12, 2018

Dear St. Stan's Families:

Joyfully, I hope that spring is here to take its turn. This winter has seemed to last far longer than expected. With that said, earlier this week, I sent out a letter specifying the changes in the calendar as we approach the end of the year. Graduation dates and last days of school were listed; I will be attaching times to each of those events as the weeks progress.

May and June are filled with so many exciting events! The first one is our annual Mother and Father of the Year. This year we will be honoring Mrs. Amy Huff and Mr. Patrick Williams for all they have done for the children of our community. Information is in this white envelope for purchasing tickets to this very lovely event!

Next week our students will be involved in Iowa standardized testing. These tests offer us a glimpse at our curriculum, teaching methods and overall educational process. I ask that students come in on time (once testing begins students will not be able to enter the classrooms), well rested, having eaten breakfast and prepared to do their best.

Finally, next week please be on the look out for a document outlining new morning procedures. Based on security funding we received from the state of New Jersey, we have installed a new front door lock system. Drop off procedures in the morning will be changed for the safety and security of the students and faculty in the building. It will take some adjustment by all of us but ultimately it will increase the effectiveness of the security in the building.

I hope all of you take a moment to enjoy the anticipated warm weather this weekend and as always should you have any concerns please contact the school office.

In His Peace,
