"Integrity is doing the right thing even when no one is watching."

September 12, 2019

Dear St. Stans' Families:

Integrity is sometimes a difficult concept for our little learners; so when you see them exhibit it, as a teacher you cannot be prouder. We see our students practicing this and hope that the characteristic of integrity continues to grow with each of them. The idea is that you need to maintain your integrity even when no one but God sees your actions and that is the true test!

It was such a pleasure to see so many parents last night at Back to School Night, I hope you enjoyed the experience and received valuable information. I ask that all of our family keep this year's eighth graders and last year's eighth graders in your prayers as they accept the responsibility in their faith of confirmation on September 17th.

On Friday, September 27th we not only have an early dismissal but our students will get to participate in our first ever color run. This event is not only a fundraiser, but we hope it will be a fun morning for our students. A heads up the color that is used for color runs does have the tendency to stain so I would suggest that students wear shoes they don't mind having colored permanently and the same goes for their clothes. If you drive your child home you might want to have a towel in your car. We will have more information next week.

As I said a back to school night please never hesitate contacting me with any questions or concerns.

In His Peace,

Elena Malinconico
