"Winter is an etching, spring a watercolor, summer an oil painting, and autumn is a mosaic of them all."

September 26, 2019

Dear St. Stans' Families:

Welcome to autumn and all the beauty that goes with this mosaic. I often think of our school as a mosaic, made up of each of the students, faculty, and families that make up our school. The mosaic is perfect with all the pieces in place!

We are very fortunate to have the opportunity to have Bishop Checchio celebrate Mass, here at St. Stans' Church, this Sunday, September 29, 2019 at 9 am. I encourage all of our school families to attend this Mass and I also encourage students to wear their school uniforms, to show the Bishop the value our parishioners place in Catholic education.

Tomorrow, September 27th, the HSA is sponsoring our first annual color run. We anticipate this event to be exciting and fun for all our students. It is a dress down day and I know students are anxious to have crazy hair and clothes. The two stipulations are, that any hair color must be out of their hair when they return to school on Monday and the clothes must not violate the out of uniform dress code.

Finally, students are able to bring to school drinks for during classes. Please be advised it needs to be limited to water. We have started the year out with quite a few spills and water won't stain papers, books, carpets, etc., so we are asking that you refrain from sending anything else besides water to avoid any issues.

In His Peace,
